Artist and Northwestern University senior lecturer Pamela Bannos has created a web site, <http://hiddentruths.northwestern.edu/home.html> , to reveal the hidden stories behind our contemporary understanding of the Chicago Cemetery, subsequently known as the City Cemetery, then the Old Cemetery, and finally Lincoln Park.

Listen to her fascinating quest, beginning with the early days' accounts in Chicago's city records, continuing with a detailed search of historical newspaper articles, and ending with contemporary web site explorations, that exposes a fascinating layered history of this 50-acre plot of land.
